Will Rehabilitate 183d St. This Year

Widening and re-surfacing of 183rd St., between 80th and 76th avenues, is a certainty this year, according to the information given William Kane, Orland Park, who is connected with the Cook County highway department.

Since 76th Av. is cut in two by I-80, traffic between Mokena and Tinley Park via 191st St. must now take 80th Av. to 183d.

Kane said the material to put the road in good condition was allocated but the sub-contractor was unable to complete the job before cold weather set in.

"We have done our best, in the past few weeks, under adverse weather conditions, to repair the road for limited travel," Kane said. "We plan to complete this project just as soon as weather permits."

North Central Staff Checks Stagg, Sandburg

Two teams of visiting educators from the North Central Association, here this week to advise the staffs of Sandburg and Stagg High Schools, met District 230's school board at a dinner meeting at Silver Lake Country Club Feb. 26.

North Central studies schools with a visiting team of experts every seven years. This is the seventh year for Sandburg. The Association also checks new schools during the first year the new high school has a senior class. This is Stagg's situation this year.

Mrs. Violet Bimm, head of Sandburg's business education department, is faculty chairman for Sandburg's self study. Don Brauer, District 230's industrial arts chairman, is faculty chairman for Stagg's North Central self-study committee.

The visiting committee will observe teachers in action, hold conferences with department chairmen and administrators, and will gather objective evidence to help evaluate the school's program. A written and an oral report will be made at the end of this week, which will help the school look to the future and to deal with basic issues that need improvement.

Each school has divided its faculty into committees to study in great detail ten areas: philosophy and objectives, school and community, program of studies, student activity program, instructional materials services, guidance, health services, the school plant, school staff, and administration.

At the Feb. 12 board meeting, architects suggested ways to bring the cost of Stagg High's building addition into line with the proposed budget. The architects' changes would trim from the plans about $192,256 worth of building and permanent fixtures.

Board members expressed hope that an interest free loan from the state might be obtained, so that some of the items might be put back and the original plans could still be followed.

From a low base bid by Miller-Davis construction company Jan. 22, of $1,872,000, the architects' proposed changes in equipment and materials, reducing the price by an estimated $75,489. By not building about 9500 square feet onto the academic wing, the price would be further reduced by an estimated $116,767. If both deductions have to be made, the new amount, in line with the budget, would be $1,679,744.

The board discussed with the architect preliminary plans for additions to Carl Sandburg. A special meeting of the board with Sandburg personnel and the architects is scheduled for March 4.

7 Area Residents Are Graduated As Practical Nurses

Seven area residents were feted at a recent graduation tea sponsored by the Oak Forest Hospital School of Practical Nursing.

The group was honored by the staff upon completion of the school's one year state approved training program. Included in the student's curriculum were courses in pediatrics, care of children, mother and newborn children which was conducted at St. James Hospital in Chicago Heights; medical and surgical training taught at Little Company of Mary Hospital in Evergreen Park; and classes in geriatrics, the care of the aged held at Oak Forest Hospital. Completion of the required courses made the graduates eligible for state board examination for state licensing.

Included in the February class of graduates are:

Mrs. Lois Barnett, 551 Hickory street and Mrs. Anita Kennedy, 1339 Mason court, Chicago Heights; Miss Kathleen Bean, 16231 Trumbull, Markham; Mrs. Virginia Book, 110 Third street, Mokena; Miss Dianne Sinicin, 5612 N. Bunny avenue, McHenry; Mrs. Eleanor Wick, 11837 Artesian, Chicago; and Miss Judith Smith, 2749 W. 89th Street, Evergreen Park.

Included in the program was the presentation of the class gift, a brass planter, presented by Miss Kathleen Bean to Miss Donna Herbst, R.N., educational director of the school. In accepting the gift, Miss Herbst was joined by Miss Theresa Bernoudy, R.N., administrator of nursing, in congratulating the group on their decision, as a group, to apply for service with Oak Forest Hospital.

In her salutation, Mrs. Bernoudy stated, "It is gratifying to the school and administration to find the students so impressed with Oak Forest Hospital, that they decided to join our staff. I think it speaks for the ever improving working relationships at our hospital."

USDA has announced that the price support program for 1968 crop wheat will be modified. Current price support regulations provide that when wheat is stored in or delivered to CCC approved storage warehouses official grade and protein (hard wheat) determinations are required.

Revised regulations will eliminate these requirements beginning with the 1968 wheat crop.

In previous years Rayson was recipient of the same award and he also was cited as "best freshman legislator."

At the I-80 dedication dinner sponsored by the Tinley Park Jaycees, Rayson was among local citizens cited by Gov. Kerner and commissioned as a member of the transportation committee of the sesquicentennial commission.

Rayson is a member of the House revenue and education committees and the Illinois family study commission. He also has been working to get a senior college located in South Cook County. He also is plumping for a major airport in the South Cook-Will County area.

MRS. GERALDINE LUBWAY, 220 W. Francis Rd., New Lenox, received an outstanding performance rating from Brig. Gen. B.R. Luczak, APSA commander at Joliet, Ill. Mrs. Lubway received the award for the quality of her work for the period July 1966 through June 1967.

MOST CONSTRUCTION activity at Stagg High School will be "cut back", as additions will be constructed to each wing: "A" building, the academic and library sections is on the west; "B" building is the center area where a swimming pool will be added; and "C" building is to the east, and contains vocational and art rooms.

Ground may be broken "anytime now", said Supt. W. O. Fisher. Miller-Davis is the main contractor and will work on "C" building additions with the most emphasis, so two new art rooms, an auto shop, an electronics shop, two home economics labs, and a large typing room -- to serve 55 - 60 students -- will all be available for the growing school by next fall.

Additions to "B" building will include a 6-lane swimming pool, two balcony areas where physical education classes will be held, a new choral room, a health room and nurses' office, and a boys' locker room.

The two-floor addition to "A" building calls for 14 classrooms, three laboratories, and four individual study areas in an expanded library.

NI-Gas To Take Bids On Large Bond Issue

Northern Illinois Gas Company announced that it plans to sell $25 or $30 million of 25-year first mortgage bonds by competitive bidding.

Given satisfactory market conditions and the necessary regulatory approvals, the bids are scheduled to be opened on June 11.

W. J. Crowley, NI-Gas executive - vice president, said the utility will request approval from the Illinois Commerce Commission prior to the sale.

Crowley said the financing will be for the company's 1968 utility construction program which was previously announced to be $45 million. This amount -- $7 million more than was spent last year -- is necessary, Crowley said, because of a step-up in forecasts of new household formations, additional development of underground storage fields, and construction of more mains from these fields to the company's markets.

According to Crowley, the balance of the funds needed for the 1968 construction program will be provided from internal sources.

As was reported earlier, the company's projected utility construction program for the next five years (1968-1972) is $250 million -- up $46 million from the forecast for the 1967-71 period.

NI-Gas, which now serves more than 975,000 customers in northern and western Illinois, expects to add its one-millionth customer sometime during 1968.

The demonstrations are planned for six weeks to show difference in behavior, growth, and appearance between the poorly-fed animal and the well fed.

According to Miss Gerner, by mid-May nearly 2,000 pupils will be participating in 36 of these demonstrations in Will, Kankakee and Kendall counties and the south half of Kane -- the area served by the Dairy Council of the Tri Cities.

Teachers involved in the experiment in the area are John Kelly and Arthur Maue, at Oakview; Mrs. L.B. Lewis, at St. Jude and Kenneth Reiss at Frankfort.

was a past master of Matteson Lodge, No. 175, A.F. & A.M.

When he retired three years ago Mr. Hanlin was chief clerk of the general superintendent's office of the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern Railway Co.

His only survivors are his sister, Mary, Mrs. Everett L. White, with whom he had made his home since the death of his mother several months ago, and three nieces.

The Rev. Lawrence Axelson, pastor of the Ottawa St. Methodist Church, Joliet, officiated at the funeral service. Interment was in Elmhurst Cemetery.
